

COLLEGE ESSAY TUTORING: Thinking about writing your college essays?

Who I am: Hanna Tyson, a junior at Stanford studying International Relations, Creative Writing and Computer Science

Why me?: I've been college essay tutoring for three years! My last students got into their top choices: Stanford University, University of Chicago, Northwestern, and University of Texas.

What I do: To me, nothing is more important than helping you find your voice in your college essays. These pieces of writing not only reflect who you are, but they decide where you'll be having your college experience.

